

Indigenous World Film Festival—Student Show

What is it: A newly-added student section of the Indigenous World Film Festival. Students are invited to submit their films for public screening as a part of the Indigenous World Film Festival. ANHC High School Program Students will be hosting the event—designing programs, emceeing the evening, and helping to select the films chosen for screening. This will be a great venue for beginning filmmakers to have their debut, plus it will look great on resumes.

Who Can Participate: Any high school students under 20 years old. Copies of students IDs should be included. Filmmakers need not be indigenous, but the films should feature indigenous people and/or issues in some way. Films do not have to have a specific production date.

When: Deadline for submission is 31 October 2009. Festival is February 4, 2010 from 6pm-10pm in the Theatre at ANHC. Please mark your calendar!

Cost: It's Free!

How to Enter Your Movie: Either mail in or drop off a copy of your movie on DVD at the Alaska Native Heritage Center
